

Administrative Roles for Differentiating Teaching and Learning in Middle and High Schools

Vicki Gibson, Ph.D.

with Anne Silavs and Beverly Hempstead

Contents

Foreword	7
Module 1: Introduction to Differentiating Instruction	9
Introduction	11
What is differentiating instruction?	12
Grouping to differentiate instruction	13
Flexible Grouping	15
How do you make differentiating instruction happen in classrooms?	16
Preparing for resistance	17
Two Frequent Teacher Concerns	19
Using Mailboxes for Paper Management	19
Do/Done Folders	21
Student Contracts	22
Job Chart	24
Rotation Chart	26
Business Center	29
Teaching Routines and Procedures	30
Classroom Organization	31
Application for Administrators	31
Conclusion	34
Module 2: Instruction Management	39
Introduction	41
Changing Daily Schedules	41
Alternating Whole-Class and Small-Group Activities	42
Collecting Data to Inform Instruction	45
Providing High-Quality Instruction	46
Changing Instructional Pacing	49
Sequential Activities Occurring Simultaneously	50
Graphic Organizers	51
Teaching Self-regulation	52
Conclusion	53

Module 3: Administrative Leadership in Differentiating Instruction	59
Introduction	61
Welcome to Ocean View	61
Forming an Interdisciplinary Team	63
Using Data to Identify Needs	64
Designating “Full” and “Flexed” Meetings	65
Determining Meeting Agendas	66
Forming PLCs among Principals	67
Encouraging Principals as Leaders	70
“Going Slow to Go Fast”	72
Recognizing Efforts and Achievements	75
Conclusion	76
Module 4: Phases of implementation	81
Introduction	83
Phases of Implementation Overview	83
Phase One: Gathering Data and Determining Needs	83
Phase Two: Establishing Order Using Routines and Procedures	86
Three Keys to Maintaining Consistency	89
Tips for Monitoring Phase Two Implementation	90
Phase Three: Improving Instructional Effectiveness	91
Student-Focused Coaches	96
Phase Four: Monitoring and Sustaining Progress	98
Looking Ahead	101
Conclusion	103
A Final Word	109
Appendices	111
Appendix 1.1 Checklist for Monitoring Use of Instructional Time	113
Appendix 1.2 Checklist for Monitoring Classroom Environment	115
Appendix 2.1 Teacher/Classroom Observation Report	117
Appendix 4.1 Plan of Assistance	119
Appendix 5.1 References	121
Appendix 6.1 Answer Key for Training Manual Exercises	127
Appendix 6.2 Answer Key for Administrator Guide Exercises	145